

ARIZONA INTRAMURALS 2009-2010

Campus Recreation

The Arizona Intramurals Program is a unique opportunity for members of The University of Arizona community to participate together in sports leagues and tournaments. You don't have to be a superstar to play; any currently registered student or current faculty/staff member can participate. Each sport offers opportunities for competitive, intermediate or recreational play.

ARIZONA INTRAMURALS OFFICE HOURS

Team Sports (leagues)

Team Sports are scheduled into 3 or 4 game seasons as time and space allow. You select the league game times. Teams play in a Single Elimination play-off at the end of the season to determine a champion. We select play-off game times. In an effort to meet the needs of a more varied recreational population, the program offers a tiered structure for Men, Women and Co-Rec participation. The three levels are divided based on intensity of competition and motivation for playing. This will enable participants to play in the most appropriate level. All Intramural activities are classified as recreational sports in the sense that they are less competitive and more cooperative than interscholastic or intercollegiate athletics. The primary reasons for playing Intramural Sports should always be relaxation, exercise, social interaction, and friendly competition. It is within this framework of competing with, rather than against, an opponent that the following levels of play were developed.

- Desert (Newly Skilled): The emphasis is on playing. "HAVING FUN"
- Sunset (Moderately Skilled): You are invested in determining a champion. "PLAYING HARD"
- Cactus (Highly Skilled): The most intense division. "WINNING BIG"

Individual and Dual Sport Tournaments

With activities such as table tennis, Homerun Derby and Swim Meet, Arizona Intramurals has something for everyone. The format of these events varies depending on the type of activity. Some activities have seasons, some are tournaments, and some are one-day meets, competitions or races. Each event has various skill levels to accommodate participants of all abilities. Contact the Arizona Intramurals Office for more information about any of these events.

Registration and Fees

Signing up to play is easy! For each activity, there is a designated entry period. During that time come to office with your university photo ID. For team sports the team captain has to register (need player names and SID numbers) and complete roster. All fees ($$) are used to pay student employees, provide awards, promote and publicize activities, and purchase equipment. These fees do not cover the entire costs for the program, but help to offset expenses. When considering the quality of the program and the positive experiences enjoyed by the participants, the program remains a tremendous value. Regional and National Championship Tournament entry fees vary. Please check the sports specific information sheet.

- Officiated League Sports are $75.00 team.
- Non-Officiated League Sports are $55.00 per team.
- Tournaments/Special Events are $12.00 - $40.00 per person/team. Please check the sport specific information sheet to get the correct entry fee.
